DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1 to 10, drawn to a method of controlling a pump, classified in class 417, subclass 53.
- II. Claims 11 to 20, drawn to a peristaltic pump and motor control, classified in class 417, subclass 44.11.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus such as a vane type or interengaging rotor pump.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

During a telephone conversation with Gary S. Williams on January 3, 2007 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of group II, claims 11 to 20.

Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims

Art Unit: 3746

1 to 10 stand withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: in para. 0020, line 3 from the bottom, "compresses" should read --compressed--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. There is no antecedent basis for "the pump calibration". It would appear that this claim should depend on claim 16.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tokorozawa et al (US 4,231,707) in view of Jackson et al (US 4,884,013). Tokorozawa et al disclose a peristaltic pump having a motor controller which uses mechanical or optical means for counting the units of rotation of the pump rotor and stops the motor when the counted units of rotation reach a specified target count value (col. 8, para. 2). However, Tokorozawa et al do not disclose monitoring the drive current of the motor so as to track rotation of the pump rotor. Jackson et al disclose a peristaltic pump having motor control wherein the units of rotation of the pump rotor are determined by monitoring the drive current of the motor. Using an electronic component in order to monitor the drive current of the motor is structurally simpler, more compact and more cost effective as compared to the mechanical/optical means of Tokorozawa et al. In view of this teaching, it would have been obvious to substitute an electronic drive current monitoring means for the mechanical/optical rotation counting means of Tokorozawa et al. The added language to claim 11 is implicit in any fixed displacement pump and therefore does not define over the prior art.

Allowable Matter Subject

Claims 12 to 16 and 18 to 20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim 17 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
